

Thinks War Unlikely

Dulles Warns of Possible Syria, Red Attack on Turkey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States must be on guard against the possibility of an attack by Syria and Russia against Turkey. Dulles said that in event of such an attack the United States would not leave the Soviet Union as a privileged sanctuary. Along with his grim warning, Dulles said he thinks an outbreak of war in the Middle East is unlikely, largely because of the United Nations' focus of attention on the area. At his first news conference in about six weeks Dulles said on the subject of Russia's Sputnik and intercontinental missiles that he thinks the Soviets may be ahead of the United States in this area of weapons. But he declared emphatically that the United States now has and will have marked military superiority over the Russians because in part of this nation's lead in heavy bombers. He said bombing planes are presently the more decisive weapon in modern forces. In five or ten years, Dulles said, missiles may be the decisive weapon and it is important for the United States to push ahead in this field. If the question is one of adequate defense expenditures or a reduced budget and tax cuts, Dulles said certainly security has got to come first. Dulles described Russia's successful launching of the first earth satellite as a useful thing because he said it arouses the whole country and Congress to the importance of the missiles program.

He argued that the administration has realized all along how important this is and the degree of Russia's advances in the field but he clearly indicated a belief that Congress and the nation generally were really awake to the problem. Dulles ruled out any direct negotiations between the United States and Russia to carve up the world and establish what he called an overlordship of other nations.

He said the Soviets have long awaited a Moscow - Washington deal to that end, but he said the United States and Russia are not the only powers in the world and this country would have nothing to do with trying to tell other countries what to do. He held that meetings such as his recent talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko are useful because they lead to better understanding on the part of Russian and American leaders of each other's policies.

Much of the news conference questioning dealt with recent threats by Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev against Turkey. Khrushchev has based his belligerent talk on the idea that Turkey is threatening to attack Syria.

While Dulles was talking with newsmen, Syria itself formally advanced that charge in the United Nations, asking for a U. N. investigation of what it called the threat from its neighbor. Dulles recalled that postwar troubles between Russia and Turkey began as early as 1945; that the Truman Doctrine of aiding threatened countries began with Turkey in 1947 and that the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance was extended to protect Turkey in 1951.

about. Taber added, "but it should wake us up that Russia is not as backward as some people seem to think."

The comments from Cannon and Taber differed from those of a number of Democrats, who, without specifically calling for increased defense spending, have criticized the administration's economy efforts in that area.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today the administration's defense plans appear to be based on "meeting the enemy at the sea-coast with a balanced budget," and he added in an interview: "The administration has let fiscal considerations determine our defense, when it should be just the other way around."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told a news conference yesterday that the United States should initiate at once an emergency program to overhaul the Soviets in the missiles and satellite fields. He spoke out 24 hours after Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) had expressed similar views, and about the same time as Rep. Brooks (D-La.) urged appointment of a missile program czar to end what he called "service bickering, waste, overlapping of authority and inefficient management."

Both senators indicated larger expenditures would be needed, but neither stated specifically what he believed a revised defense budget should total.

Predicts Missile Firing Over US Cities in Future

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. (AP)—The commanding general of this missile test center has predicted that future testing may call for firing of rockets over U. S. cities. Maj. Gen. W. E. Laidlaw told about 200 base visitors and newsmen last night that, because of safety measures, there would be no more danger from the rockets than there now is from warplanes. The visitors had gathered at this southern New Mexico base yesterday for a ceremony which turned over the Talos Defense Unit (TDU) to the Army for testing.

The huge unit, first developed as a naval ship-to-air defense weapon, was perfected at White Sands by the Radio Corp. of America and was presented to the Army jointly by RCA and the Navy.

A later field demonstration of the Talos missile fizzle when a booster mechanism failed shortly after the weapon was fired.

The TDU, officials explained before the demonstration, is a completely automatic defense unit. It is capable, electronically, of locating an enemy target—missile or aircraft in the air 100 or more miles away. The TDU computes the course of the enemy, loads a missile and fires it.

Yesterday's projected target was a remote-control "drone" B17 bomber of World War II vintage, flying at an altitude of 20,000 feet and about 25 miles distant from the TDU.

Four seconds after the firing, pieces of metal were seen spewing from the rocket booster at a height of about 4,000 feet. The weapon was put out of operation immediately and the missile crashed on the range.

A second scheduled firing was canceled because of time conditions. In his discussion of the possibility of firing rockets over cities in the future, the general said that at present there could be no absolute safety.

He said the safety program at White Sands has been carefully developed and since he has assumed command of the base, only one rocket — a Matador — has moved outside the firing range. This missile crashed in an isolated area without injury to anyone.

Unusual Sunset Seen

It looked like the world might be on fire in the west Tuesday night and many Sedalians were watching the very unusual sunset that set the west aglow like great flames licking at the gray-blue autumn sky high above. Narrow sclopes of clouds against the brilliance of the setting sun made this very unusual and beautiful effect.

Moulder Attacks Road's President at Hearing

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Despite repeated objections from railroad attorneys, Congressman Morgan M. Moulder D-Mo. told the State Public Service Commission today the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad was being mismanaged.

In a PSC hearing on the Katy's request to discontinue two passenger trains between St. Louis and the Kansas line near Parsons, Moulder also attacked the road's new president, William N. Deraum III.

He called Deraum a "road wrecker" and referred to his presidency of the Chicago, Great Western Railroad before he became president of the Katy line last January.

Proof of the mismanagement of the company against the public interest, Moulder said, was the road's overnight transfer of its accounting and purchasing departments from St. Louis to Denison, Tex., last March 23 without notifying the employees.

He read a letter which he said he received from the Interstate Commerce Commission Oct. 3 and which called Katy's accounting methods a violation of accounting rules of the I. C. C. The letter said there was no evidence that the accounting procedures were willful violations, however.

Attorneys for the railroad, Bill Thie and Dan Welch of Denison, took turns objecting to Moulder's remarks. They said his attacks on Deraum and on the transfer of the accounting department had no bearing on the present case before the PSC.

William Barton, public service commissioner presiding over today's hearing, said the statement from the congressman would be given only the attention it might deserve in consideration of the case.

Welch said none of Moulder's remarks was based on any personal knowledge and couldn't be given any credence.

Moulder had made a general statement that discontinuance of trains No. 5 and 6 would cause unemployment, substantial loss in local taxes and great loss in passenger and mail service along the line.

He said the Katy "wants to haul the freight at a big profit but doesn't want to haul the people who provide the freight."

Welch said if Moulder would wait a bit, Katy's comptroller, J. T. Stephenson of Dallas, would be able to answer his questions about accounting procedures and "you will be satisfied your arguments are baseless—that your statement is based on misinformation."

Moulder finished his statement and left immediately to return to Washington where a subcommittee of which he is a member has a hearing scheduled tomorrow.

The PSC gave him permission to make the statement and leave.

Cake More Important

NO TIME FOR SPEECHES—Mary Jean, youngest grandchild of President Eisenhower, isn't waiting to hear any speeches as she dashes past Republican Chairman Meade Alcorn at the microphone to inspect the decorations on the 500-pound cake given to her grandpa on his 67th birthday. Alcorn had just stepped to the microphone to explain the significance of the cake when the one and a half year old Mary Jean decided to get a closer look at the cake.

Smith-Cotton Will Hold Homecoming Parade, Snake Dance

Thursday evening Smith-Cotton will sponsor the annual homecoming snake dance as part of the pre-game ceremonies. The event will begin at 7 o'clock with police escort, and proceed down Ohio to Main, east to Lamine and back down to Seventh. A bonfire with a school song and cheer session will then be held on the athletic field east of the school building, and this will climax the evening's events.

Friday the homecoming parade with floats and other events will march through Sedalia, taking the same route as the snake dance. These are the only school sponsored homecoming celebrations this year, and the Thursday snake dance and bonfire is expected to last from two to three hours.

Four Whiteman Air Force Base airmen were injured in an accident on the first curve north of LaMonte on Highway 127 about 7:45 o'clock Tuesday night. Their injuries were not considered serious.

The airmen were headed north on Highway 127 when they skidded for 156 feet on and off the black-top pavement, then nosed over and rolled for an additional 33 feet. The car, a 1952 Chevrolet tudor sedan, driven by A/3c Thomas Edward Phillips, 19 was demolished.

The other three in the car were A/3c Barbie Gene Wallace, 21, A/3c John J. Justice, 19, and A/3c Walter Henry Klosowski, 21. All went to the hospital at Whiteman for treatment for their abrasions and bruises.

Queen Starts Visit In Historic Area

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—The pendulum of time swings back 350 years today for Virginia, America and Queen Elizabeth II of England.

The British monarch chose to open a six-day visit to the United States in a storied segment of tidewater Virginia, famed in pictures, legend and fact in all the school-boy history books.

This is the region of the ivied tower of an old red brick church on Jamestown Island, of the tale of Pocahontas and Captain John Smith, of the founding of Jamestown, in 1607, as the first permanent English settlement in the new world.

It is the 350th anniversary of Jamestown, largely, which brings Queen Elizabeth here today — along with thousands of spectators eager for a glimpse of her dark-haired, blue-eyed majesty and her consort, blond Prince Philip.

Here, too, at Williamsburg the past is present everywhere — in the restorations and reproductions of Virginia's colonial capital.

And here on this historic peninsula between the James and York rivers, Britain's 13 American colonies and the Revolutionary War were lost. Another famous date, the 178th anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, comes up Friday.

But Her Majesty will be in Washington then. And the route for her today bypassed Yorktown completely. Still, there were to be some reminders of that era when Anglo-American relations were far less friendly than they are now.

Late this afternoon the Queen has tea at the home of the president of William and Mary College — the house which was headquarters for Cornwallis in the final phases of the Revolutionary War.

And two mortars, captured from Cornwallis at Yorktown, flank the entrance to the Wren Building, the oldest collegiate building in the nation, where the Queen will make some brief remarks.

One of those trying, split-second schedules lay ahead of the queen from the moment of her arrival by plane from Ottawa, Canada.

Congressmen Express Views

Says Spending Not Answer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top two members of the House Appropriations Committee said today that Russia's launching of a satellite doesn't necessarily require increased U. S. defense spending.

What it does mean, said Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) and Rep. Taber (R-NY), senior GOP member of the committee, is that the United States must cease being complacent, stop underrating Soviet progress and concentrate on missile programs.

The two men who probably have more to say about appropriations than any two other members of Congress expressed "their views in telephone interviews from Elsbury, Mo., and Auburn, N. Y.,

They agreed that the success of Russia's home-made moon had boosted Soviet prestige throughout the world and made it imperative that this country bolster its own defenses and the defenses of its foreign friends.

"I don't think it means that we must appropriate more money for defense, but rather that we must allocate our defense spending better," Cannon said. "The emphasis must be on the missile programs, for which we have appropriated liberally."

Taber agreed, saying, "There should not be too much difference between next year's defense budget and this year's."

Tells Foreign Opinions

Kansas City University Dean Is Speaker at Sorosis Meet

Dr. Hugh W. Speer, Dean of Education, University of Kansas City, gave a very clear picture of seeing ourselves as others see us in foreign countries at his talk Monday afternoon before Sorosis members at the Heard Memorial Club House.

This country, Dr. Speer pointed out, has some pretty persistent mind sets. The first one is that we have given a lot of aid to other countries and we think they should love us for it, but they don't. Most of it has been of a military nature and it has helped, sometimes, make a dictatorship, when the man at the top gains more power. We do, he stated, enjoy prestige based on culture, science and products. We are rich, a creditor, as they see us, but we put a price tag on what we give, we often hold a lever over them.

Another mind set, he said, we have a form of isolation and we have it even more in the Midwest than any place else. We can't live to ourselves any more, Dr. Speer said, we must pay some attention to other countries. Since we want to do things our own way we are put at a disadvantage and are suspected, where, if we did things through the United Nations we would not be suspected. If the United Nations should send troops anywhere it would be different than if we, or any of the western powers would do it alone.

The third mind set, Dr. Speer said, is the dollar diplomacy. We have used the dollar to buy what we want and we figure we can buy our way in or out as we choose. When foreign students come here we wine and dine them and expect them then to come on our side.

The fourth mind set is American's feeling of superiority. Dr. Speer told the group. The satellite Sputnik upset us, he said, because the Russians launched a satellite before we did. This, he said, may cause trouble, but there is a humorous side. Maybe a lot of good will come out of it because it may jar us out of smugness and superiority. We think we are the greatest nation, he said. We are the largest Christian nation but Christianity is only one of the great religions. We think we have the highest culture, and other nations laugh, for they have had high culture for thousands of years and it was from them we first gained ours; we think we have the highest standard of living and yet there are many people here living in poverty. We think we have the greatest way of life, and other nations point to Hollywood, the divorce rate, the gang killings. Another question which is embarrassing is "How about the way you treat the Negro?" Dr. Speer said he liked the way Dorothy Thompson answered the question one time. She said that we were ashamed of that, but we were doing something about it. She went on to point out that there gifted child. Dr. Speer told the group, but do all we can for the ordinary child, too, give every child the best opportunity possible, for most of us are just ordinary. Competition among children is silly, the fact that every child should be expected to do the same thing at the same time at the same speed in a class room.

Now, Dr. Speer stated, we have got to spend more money for airplanes, missiles, military preparation. When he was a teenager Dr. Speer said, he heard Chief Justice Hughes talk and one thing in that talk stuck with him. It was provocative armaments. That is what we have had in some of these countries.

Positive steps to take, he said are to try to remove any taint of imperialism. Russia calls us imperialists and warmongers. Some of our allies think they can do as they did in ancient times, but people today are not going to be walked on. They are no longer content to live as they have lived because they have seen another way of life. Another thing, he said, would be international trade.

It was unfortunate when Russia went into Hungary that the hands of the Western powers were not very clean. We cannot be too self righteous before the rest of the world, he said. We could improve some.

The second positive step, Dr. Speer said, is giving the impression of being very military. The H-Bombs and other such weapons might be all right among nations but what if it should get into the hands of some madman in a small country. They wouldn't hesitate to use it. It would be better to take a step a little more peace loving. A third step would be not to be so suspicious of our scientists, this has proved very painful and costly. The fourth step is to put our own house in order, correct some of our ways and try to convince people we do not feel we are better than the dark skinned races.

Last, he said, we need to promote empathy. Empathy, he explained, is putting yourself in the other fellow's place, not being sorry for them, but looking at things through the other fellow's eyes. He used the beginning of history in our country to illustrate what he meant, the tea tax, the Boston Massacre. Stop and think, Dr. Speer urged.

He told of these nations that feel abused and went on to say: "How would we feel if we were poor and sick, not knowing where our next meal was coming from?" We must think up some short range plans, he said, as well as long range plans. Develop international change tariff, give not only sympathy and tolerance but develop acceptance and empathy. The fourth step is to put our own house in order, correct some of our ways and try to convince people we do not feel we are better than the dark skinned races.

Nobleman Banned By British Radio and TV For Queen Criticism

LONDON (U)—Lord Altrincham, the nobleman whose criticism set off the current running controversy over Britain's royal family, said today he also has been banned by the British Broadcasting Corp.

The reported blacklisting of the 33-year-old critic of Queen Elizabeth II followed cancellation Monday of a BBC television appearance by journalist Malcolm Muggeridge, author of an article in a current U.S. magazine entitled, "Does England Really Need a Queen?" Muggeridge called the monarchy "a kind of royal soap opera."

Altrincham, who made remarks about the Queen and her court circle in a British magazine last August, had been scheduled to appear on a TV panel Nov. 1. He said a BBC official telephoned him and "pointed out that as they had prevented Muggeridge from ap-

Jack Kogen, manager of the place, at first said the newlyweds were there but later backed off with the explanation he had confused Brando's name with that of another movie figure.

Reporters who went to the resort were told "he isn't here" before they could say whom they were seeking.

Arkansas U. Cancels Show Of Armstrong

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas student government last night canceled a scheduled spring appearance of Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong because of what was termed "the unfortunate remarks" made by the Negro trumpeter on the Little Rock integration crisis.

Dr. John T. Caldwell, university president, said the faculty supports the students in their decision.

He called Armstrong's comments and criticism of Gov. Orval Faubus "a blunder which obviously can help no one and just as obviously does much mischief."

Armstrong had said he would be glad to play at the university but sorry that Faubus might enjoy the program. The governor said this week he considers Armstrong "a very fine musician" and hopes he gets courteous treatment in Arkansas.

Although Satchmo has made frequent acid references about the racial situation in Arkansas it was a statement Monday by Joseph Glaser, his manager, that apparently touched off the furor here.

Glaser hailed Satchmo's date to play for a university prom next March as "a great moral victory."

University spokesmen retorted it was nothing of the kind and should be divorced from the integration crisis. Then the Student Senate met last night and decided to break the contract because of what Student President Jack Davis termed "unfortunate remarks" by the famous jazz musician.

Faces Charges Of Bribing Parliament

TOKYO (AP)—The chief of Japan's brothel lobby surrendered today to face charges of trying to bribe a Diet (Parliament) member to vote against an antiprostitution bill.

Tomisaburo Yamaguchi, managing director of the brothel owners' National Federation of Venereal Disease Prevention Assns., had disappeared earlier this week when a warrant was issued for his arrest.

He is accused of trying to pay a Diet member the equivalent of $835. The Diet passed the bill, and it goes into effect next spring.

Population of the Union of South Africa is now 14,167,000.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P.W. Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Negro Leader Says Faubus Made Violence

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said last night Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus "manufactured violence out of his own imagination" at the onset of the Little Rock integration turmoil.

Roy Wilkins, speaking before 600 persons at a public meeting sponsored by the local NAACP organization, said the spark that set off the Little Rock episode was Faubus' order to the state militia to prevent nine Negro children from entering Central High School.

Then, Wilkins continued, Faubus tried to "double cross" President Eisenhower by "double talk" about preserving peace and order.

"He thought the President would sit still while he, Faubus, thumbed his nose at the majesty of the United States government," Wilkins declared.

Despite the Little Rock problem, Wilkins said, Negroes will continue to press for their constitutional rights, but with "calm reasonableness and good faith a plan for desegregation," he said.

Korea President Sees US Guard Shootings As 'Purely Accidents'

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee said today that recent shootings of Koreans by U.S. guards were "purely accidents" and have not disrupted friendship between the two countries.

He told a news conference: "These incidents have taken place not because of any distrust or ill feeling between Korea and America. All of these have been purely accidents concerning individuals . . . and these accidents have not been so serious as to harm cordial relations between our two countries."

He said Korean and U.S. officials are taking steps to prevent a recurrence of the shootings, "and I am convinced that appropriate measures will be taken in the near future." He did not elaborate on the measures.

The Korean press has harshly criticized the shootings, which the U.S. Army has said occurred during thefts of military supplies. Korean editorials have demanded a status-of-force agreement that would give Korea the right to try American GIs for off-duty crimes.

Cookie Recipe Wins National Bake Contest

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—An old family cookie recipe has won $25,000 for a French-born widow.

"I used an American twist—aluminum foil," said Mrs. Gerda Roderer, who was awarded first prize last night in $100,000 baking contest.

Her entry, a butter cookie with shortbread flavor, took top honors among all the goodies turned out by 100 amateur cooks from 36 states and Hawaii.

A commercial artist, Mrs. Roderer lives in Berkeley, Calif., with her son Frank, 24. She came to this country from France four years ago.

Mrs. Roderer said she will use the prize money for her son's education and for traveling about the United States.

Her cookie was named "ac-cordian treats," after the plated aluminum foil in which the cookie was baked.

The contest was sponsored by the Pillsbury Flour Co. and the manufacturer of the stoves used by the contestants (General Electric).

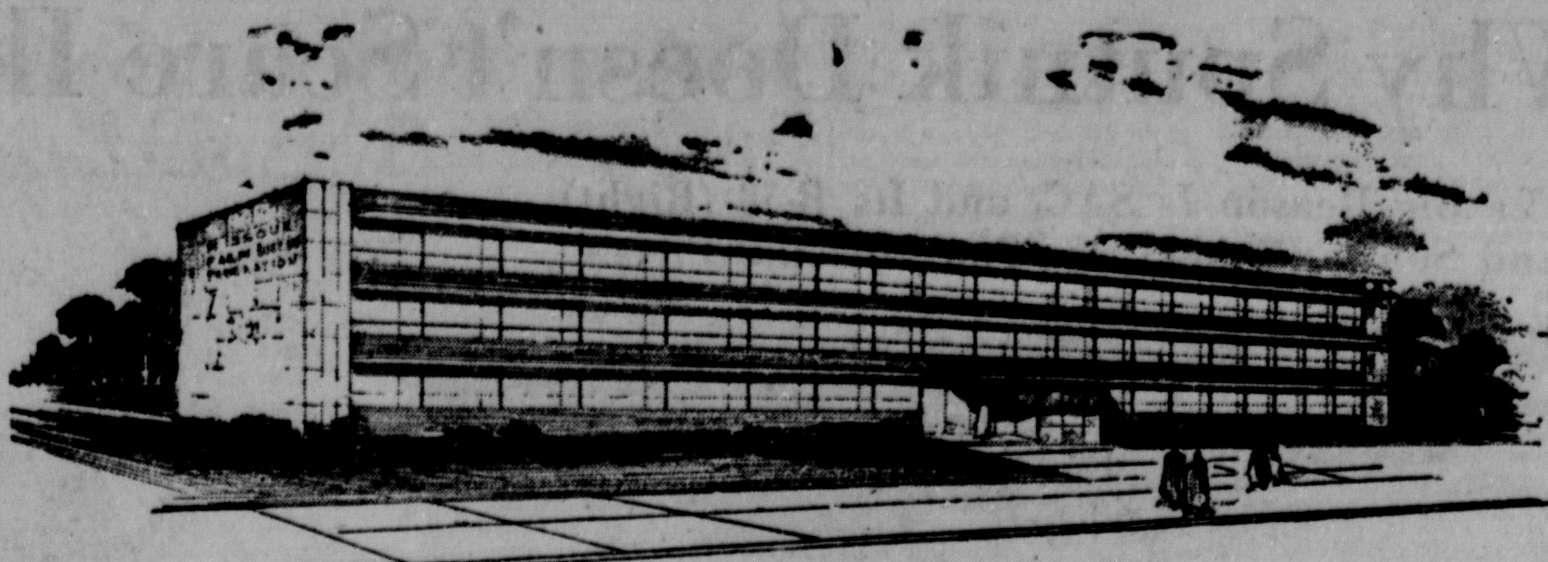

Other prizes included:

Second grand prize of $5,000 went to Mrs. Beatrice A. Ojakangas, whose husband is an instructor at the University of Minnesota's Duluth branch.

Top prize of $3,000 was awarded Mrs. Deborah W. Ludwig, wife of a Forest Park, Ill., dentist.

Top junior prize went to Miss Elizabeth A. Wickersham, 17, a high school senior from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Senior prize was won by Mrs. Ester J. Oakden, whose husband, William, is a highway engineer at Belvidere, Ill.

Heavy Rains, Winds Lash Southern Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe thunderstorms and tornado winds lashed areas in Louisiana and Mississippi and more rain drenched Texas today. Nineteen persons were injured last night as a tornado struck Opelousas, La. Five or six homes were leveled.

Stormiest weather appeared in extreme Southeastern Louisiana and extreme southern Mississippi along a 60-mile front from Baton Rouge, La., to 10 miles west of Mobile, Ala.

The continued northward movement of warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico brought rain to wide areas. A wet belt extended from the southeastern tip of Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley northward through other sections of the Mississippi Valley, the eastern Dakotas, the lower Ohio Valley and the upper Great Lakes region.

Uses Fear of War

Khrushchev Launches Drive To Oust US From Mid East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Using fear of world war as a weapon, Nikita S. Khrushchev has launched an offensive whose aim ultimately is to blast the United States out of the Middle East.

The Soviet Communist chief's propaganda letters to the Socialist parties of Europe are aimed not at the leadership of those parties, but at the rank and file, in an attempt to build a fire of dread which will eat away at Western political solidarity.

The object appears to be to gain a free Soviet hand, first in Syria, and then progressively in other areas of the Middle East, without the danger of energetic Western opposition. In a sense, Khrushchev is attempting to revive the popular front idea which bought time for the Soviet Union a few years before World War II by inducing political paralysis in Western European nations.

In those days Stalin used fear of fascism-nazism as the spur to goad Socialists into a common front with the Communists. Today, Khrushchev is using the fear of a Middle East explosion which could lead to a dreadful World War III. Khrushchev chose his moment well. His threats and cajoleries come directly after the U.S.S.R. dramatically announced its success in launching Sputnik, the earth satellite, and in firing an intercontinental ballistic missile.

Both these events represent propaganda setbacks to the United States and can lead to further dissipation of the rapidly waning American prestige in the Middle East.

Having gained these distinct propaganda victories, Khrushchev and his party evidently intend to push their advantage to the edge of the limits they consider safe.

Any attempt the United States makes now to recoup its deteriorating Middle East position will become a new weapon in Kremlin hands. By playing on the fear of war, Moscow seems to aim at paralyzing American and Western policy so the Communists can proceed with what they appear to regard as a slow but sure drive to economic, military and ultimately political domination of the area. If the Russians could do this, the day would not be far off when Western Europe would be at their mercy. Already they have intruded significantly in the two most sensitive countries—Syria, astride the pipelines, and Egypt, on the Suez Canal carrying oil to Europe's economic vitals.

Khrushchev is copying Stalin. His threats are open and bold. Like Stalin, he apparently hopes fear will serve as a glue to unite Europe's Socialists and Communists in blocking Western counter-measures to the aggressive Soviet drive.

Stalin enjoyed some success before the last war. But after the war, his threats served only to unite the West more strongly.

Possibly the threats will boom-erang again. At any rate, European Socialist leaders are not biting at the bait.

Broadway Stage Hit To Be in St. Louis

Mail orders are now being received at the American Theatre for "No Time for Sergeants," the booming laugh hit coming to St. Louis Monday, Nov. 4, for a two-week engagement. The Ira Levin comedy, adapted from Mac Hyman's best-selling novel goes to St. Louis following a season in Chicago and a summer-long run on the West Coast. Only 12 cities are included in the tour of the national company.

"No Time for Sergeants" tells the hilarious saga of the havoc wrought on the United States Air Force by the good-naturedness of a Georgia plowboy, Will Stockdale. The harassed recipient of Will's good intentions is Sgt. King, played by Myron McCormick, who created the role in the Broadway cast, and who is now on tour with the national company. James Holden appears as Will's buddy, Ben, and Cliff Hall as General Bush.

Wife of Spy Says Story Is a 'Smear'

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of a convicted spy says testimony linking her with alleged Soviet master spy Rudolf I. Abel is a "smear."

Reino Hayhanen, a confessed Soviet spy, said in Brooklyn Federal District Court yesterday that on two occasions Abel had ordered him to arrange for the payment of $5,000 to Mrs. Helen Sobell, wife of Morton Sobell. Sobell is serving a 30-year term in Alcatraz for his alleged role in the Rosenberg atom spy ring.

Hayhanen said the money had not been paid but that he had received a secret message instructing him to find out whether Mrs. Sobell would serve as an agent.

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were convicted as atom spies and executed at Sing Sing Prison in 1953.

Hayhanen has turned government witness at the espionage trial of Abel, which continues today. If convicted, the 55-year-old Abel could be executed.

Mrs. Sobell issued a statement immediately upon hearing of Hayhanen's testimony.

The statement, made at the Manhattan office of the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell, said in part: "This meaningless testimony is just a way of smearing me at a time when my husband's case is before the Supreme Court in a request for a new trial. Neither my husband nor I have ever committed espionage or conspired to commit espionage."

"It is no accident that these baseless charges are made at this particular time. I'm going to consult my lawyers to see if there

Hayhanen testified that Abel buried the $5,000 in Bear Mountain Park, a state resort on the Hudson River above New York City, because Mrs. Sobell's Manhattan apartment was guarded by police.

The witness said he falsely reported to Moscow that he had given Mrs. Sobell the money.

Not A Lovers' Lamp

Now that the Soviet satellite "Sputnik" has been whizzing through space for nearly two weeks, the man on the street still is under an impression the take-off was a surprise.

Partially, maybe, as to direct timing, but Drew Pearson gave a hint about it weeks before in the Democrat-Capital which also carried a pictorial item from its NEA feature service as far back as May 21. This was a map of the United States showing all the towns—including Sedalia—where "Moonwatchers May Spot Soviet Satellite." Then it was suggested the Russians had already launched a satellite since the story read: "During the dry run of 'Operation Moonwatch' its small army of amateur astronomers may spot a Russian man-made 'moon' already circling the earth. . . . It is expected that the series of observations will help chart exactly the satellite's course—and, of course, spot the Red 'moon'—if any."

It's difficult to believe our own scientists and military researchers were so engrossed in bureaucratic entanglements to create a satellite of their own, they failed to read the daily newspapers.

There's no use crying over milk the fabled cow may have spilt trying to jump over the new Red moon, but it does seem apropos that not having been first to launch one, we'd better be tending to our knitting trying to hurl a better one.

And we're not going to be best if what Senator Mansfield, (D-Mont.) says is correct—that Pentagon figures show more than 850 million dollars spent on canceled missile projects. He revealed this cost data to support his proposal that all government missile and satellite projects be coordinated under a unified program.

Since we have plenty of money to spend on such projects it seems insane to continue a program of waste, duplication and inefficiency under the misconception Russia is a second-rate nation afflicted with internal stresses and strains.

Such impassivity may lead to disaster. This is the same kind of mental immobility which is afflicting Britain. When Moscow Radio first announced the launching of the artificial satellite, Britain, the world's leading exporter of radio isotopes, was among other things busy producing plant mutations such as hairless gooseberries. But as Tom Cullen, London correspondent, so aptly put it, there is small consolation to the average Londoner that his gooseberries will no longer have hairs when That Thing—"Sputnik"—is whizzing over his head at five miles per second.

Neither was there much security assurance by adhering to normal work schedules when the Red moon was first launched. The Royal Greenwich Observatory was closed and remained closed the entire weekend. The observatory's telescopes were unmanned, its automatic camera switched off. "We work a five-day week here," an employee explained.

The world should not become panicked by the Red moon, but it is reasonable to suggest that we discontinue looking upon the Russian satellite as a lover's lamp, and get about the business of a unified program of our own to launch a better moon.

This accomplishment cannot be consummated so long as such a program is hedged about by persistent waste, duplication and inefficiency in government and military circles.

Moulder Leads Tilt To Probe Agencies

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It will be drowned out in the salutes and salaams to Queen Elizabeth, but a question reaching into the vitals of American government comes up for decision tomorrow. It's whether the independent government agencies, created by Congress and answerable to Congress, shall be required to show their files to Congress.

The man who will pose this question may become another Harry Truman—if he sticks to his guns and wins his battle. He is Congressman Morgan Moulder, a Missourian who, like Truman, is chairman of a committee appointed to investigate agencies which have become the most powerful in Washington.

These commissions, such as the Federal Power Commission, Communications Commission, Interstate Commerce, Civil Aeronautics, Securities and Exchange, have the power to award priceless TV licenses, fix rail rates, award airline routes worth millions, and police the stock market. They are not responsible to the White House, yet they have claimed immunity from complete congressional scrutiny.

At the urging of Speaker Sam Rayburn, a committee headed by Moulder has now been set up to investigate them. However, the chairman of the seven agencies got together at a private lunch at the University Club, where they decided to buck the probe by refusing to permit inspecting of their files.

Some Republicans, led by hard-working John Bennett of Michigan, have sided with Moulder in demanding a showdown. When the showdown comes tomorrow, however, you can bet that Rep. Oren Harris, great friend of the big airlines, himself part-owner of a TV station, will side with the agencies.

Truman Declines Invitation

Harry Truman is one of the few to turn down an invitation to Queen Elizabeth's reception in Washington. Official reason: previous engagement. Unofficially, Truman has confided to friends that he was so charmed by the Queen as a princess that he wants to remember her that way. . . . Truman's famous off-the-cuff, from-the-heart toast to Elizabeth in 1951 was: "When I was a little boy I read about the fairy princess and here she is. . . . The Queen's visit was originally planned to give a lift to sagging Anglo-American friendship and British prestige in the U.S.A. Now, thanks to Sputnik and Russia's ICBM, it looks as if it's American prestige that needs bolstering. . . . Prime Minister Harold MacMillan is so worried, not only

Buried Explosives

War dangers do not always end with the signing of the armistice. The Korean war is still taking a heavy toll of innocent lives because forgotten explosives still lie hidden in the fields and hills of that devastated nation.

The South Korean police have reported that during the first six months of this year concealed rockets, artillery shells and grenades killed 157 persons and maimed 228 others, of which 70 per cent were children.

Children are intrigued by a shiny object sticking out of the earth. And sometimes it happens to be a death-dealing explosive.

The Korean police have launched a campaign to dig up hidden explosives with warnings to report any shiny steel stuff that people might run across, but lives will continue to pay the price in that tiny little peninsula infested with dangerous explosives during the three years of conflict. So innocent children will continue to give their lives as an aftermath of the fighting which was to bring them freedom.

Why Sputnik Doesn't Scare Ike

The Big Reason Is SAC, and Its B-58 (Right) And Snark (Below) Are Not Museum Pieces

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Here's the big reason why Russia's Sputnik doesn't scare Ike "one iota."

At this very moment there are several thousand U.S. fliers high in the air above America and other parts of the world. They are the best-trained birdmen in the world, the crew members of the Strategic Air Command.

At any moment, 24 hours a day, SAC has at least 15 per cent of its flying personnel in the air in bombers.

If Russia did launch a barrage of intercontinental missiles with hydrogen warheads at the U. S.

any time soon, at least this 15 per cent of SAC's bombers would begin instant retaliatory missions capable of devastating Russia's biggest cities.

Plenty of SAC's other bombers would get into the air in a matter of minutes for retaliation, too. This is why Russia isn't believed likely to let loose with its ICBMs in spite of all of Khrushchev's threats.

Flushed with world astonishment at Russia's success with its satellite, Khrushchev also boasted that this development automatically relegated manned bombers to museums.

Having just been briefed on the capabilities of SAC, new U.S. Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy at his first press conference said: "I think Mr. Khrushchev would like to have the manned bombers obsolete. That would suit him right down to the ground. The manned bomber must be his nightmare, if he has any."

The same day Ike said about SAC:

"It is going to be a very considerable time in this realm, just as in any other before the old is completely replaced by the new. Even then it will be a question of accuracy of methods of delivery."

If McElroy happens to be taking over the vital defense job when the missile and satellite programs are under fire, he can take comfort that SAC is at an all-time peak of efficiency, and being improved. It represents the nation's best time cushion as far as an immediate threat from Russia is concerned.

Today SAC has over 3,000 aircraft and 200,000 men at 40 bases in the U.S., on 20 of its own bases overseas, and operating from scores of other fields manned by NATO forces.

It has 33 wings of B-47s, 5 wings of B-52 bombers and 5 wings of B-36s in the process of being equipped with B-52s.

SAC is also in the process of dispersing its bases to make a more complex, difficult target system for the enemy. It is incorporating jets into its tanker refueling fleet, which will greatly increase the speed and range of its planes.

By the first of the year it will have its first intercontinental missile wing in operation, equipped with the Snark. The Snark is powered with a conventional jet engine but is capable of missions longer than 5,000 miles at near-supersonic speeds.

A few weeks ago new SAC commander Gen. Thomas S. Power personally flew the new Convair B-38 Hustler more than 1,500 mph. Thirty B-38s are now on order and this plane appears likely to be ordered in mass quantity soon.

For 11 years SAC has maintained a state of combat readiness, probably unequaled in military history.

As soon as a bomber touches the ground after a mission it is refueled. That's so no time would be lost in getting it off the ground again if war should come.

Electronic calculators keep an hour-by-hour check of the status and readiness of every man and aircraft in SAC. This is to give the Pentagon, White House and SAC commanders an instant check on SAC's combat readiness.

SAC's fighting headquarters is now located in an amazing underground chamber at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb. SAC's bosses can direct planes by voice around the world from this huge ready room.

Only a direct hit by a huge H-bomb could knock it out of commission.

Why a man thinks that his inability to understand a woman is something to brag about.

How a man can become so attached to an old hat, a paint-spattered, worn-out pair of khakis, or an old bathrobe.

Why it is easier for a man to take a nap with a play-by-play report of a ball game droning in his ears, than in peace and quiet.

The sudden rejuvenation of a group of tired husbands when an attractive and momentarily unattached young thing comes into the room.

Why a man thinks that any woman who flatters him really understands him.

Why a man's day is ruined if for some reason he misses his morning or afternoon newspaper.

How a man can be vague about his children's ages, and still remember the batting average of every baseball player on his favorite team.

How a husband can have so much to talk about when he is away from home, and so little to talk about when he is at home alone with his wife.

Why a man thinks gossip is what his wife picks up at her bridge club, but news is what he picks up at lunch.

Why a man who lets his wife push a lawn mower and paint the house thinks another woman can't light her own cigarettes.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The prizes offered for quiz programs, contests, trading stamps and coupons intrigue thousands of Americans. Some of the rewards are so fantastic that many people are tempted to join in the rush to get "something for nothing."

Actually, most of these awards are made for hard work. The participants invest a great deal of time, effort and thinking in the programs.

The attitude of many people in wanting "something for nothing" is basically unsound. All of us ought to strive to earn or to deserve what we receive.

There is a prize in Heaven which awaits all who strive to win it. It is not "something for nothing" yet it is greater than we really deserve. This heavenly contest is based on the elimination of sin through repentance and turning to God. It does not require an outward show before men, but an inward turning of the whole self toward God.

Nixon's Missile Ideas Ring Different

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — In some ways Vice President Nixon seems more concerned over Sputnik than his boss does.

Portions of a speech Nixon made in San Francisco last night could even be construed as second-guessing President Eisenhower, not that Nixon would ever do such a thing on purpose.

What Nixon did do is warn against complacency — against brushing off the Soviet satellite as a mere scientific stunt.

Complacency is just what Eisenhower has been accused of by many critics. He didn't, as former Secretary of Defense Wilson did, call Sputnik "a nice scientific trick." He said it proves the Russians have a mighty powerful rocket.

But he also said last week that (A) while he wishes we knew more about missiles he is "not dissatisfied" with U.S. progress to date, and (B) he has given the scientists all the money they asked for and doesn't know what more he can do.

Nixon's words have a different ring: "If the free world is to survive we cannot rest on our past achievements or our present position of military superiority. . . . We must constantly push forward on all fronts."

There is a seeming difference, too, in the two men's evaluation of Sputnik as a propaganda weapon.

Eisenhower said last week he had been advised long ago that the Soviets would gain a political or psychological advantage if their satellite was first into space. He did not indicate great concern. He said he saw no reason why this consideration should cause the United States to get into a satellite race which might disrupt orderly research.

Nixon says the Russians will

Your Child's Health

Child's Ability To Learn Measured By I. Q. Test

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

There are people with high intelligence who are drug addicts, alcoholics and criminals. . . . There others who have very modest intellectual capacities who are respected and successful members of society. Thus motivation and environment, as well as inborn mental ability, play a part in what we do in life.

Nevertheless, one of the big problems facing society is how to deal with those youngsters or grownups who are mentally retarded. This may be defined as a deficiency in the natural intelligence and is reflected by mental inability to carry the full load of many of life's problems.

It is estimated that between one and three out of every hundred people have some degree of mental retardation and are therefore handicapped in their competition with those who have more native intelligence.

As a rule mental retardation can be identified during childhood by properly administered and interpreted tests of mental development known as intelligent quotient or I.Q. tests. These tests are meas-

What They Say

RABBI MAURICE N. EISEN-

DRATH (President, Union of American Hebrew Congregations)—The recurrence of the Jewish holiday, Sukkos, ancient thanksgiving and harvest festival, beginning at sunset Wednesday, Oct. 9, is a good occasion for us to see afresh how abundant is the material treasure of our nation and how imperative it is that we prove worthy of our good fortune by imitating Almighty God in its disposition.

We are indeed the most prosperous nation on earth. True, millions in our land are still far from being overfed, yet no other country on earth enjoys more material well-being.

On the other hand, in other parts of the world, millions of God's creatures suffer the pangs of constant hunger and physical anguish.

Let us show our gratitude, therefore, by the judicious sharing of our surpluses. Let us continue these programs of mutual aid not for political advantage but out of concern and commiseration for the feelings of our brethren. Let us even feed the enemy; perhaps we can win him to our side in that fashion. It is far better to destroy hostility than to have to take up arms to destroy those who hate us.

Gratitude is the index to civilization. We need constant reminders that today no individual is self-dependent. We are indebted to Almighty God for countless favors which we enjoy daily. If we are to retain life's blessings we must learn the lesson of interdependence, the recognition of the fact that all men everywhere are linked together in a bond of relatedness, to one another and to the Creator of all.

ures of the child's ability to learn rather than what the child already knows. The difference of a few points, however, does not mean much. Also, there are several kinds of such tests and the scoring varies. Comparisons are meaningless unless one knows which tests have been used.

The I.Q. is figured by dividing the mental age as calculated by the intelligence test employed by the actual age of the child in years, and multiplying the result by 100.

If a six-year-old child was found to have a mental age of three, the intelligence quotient would be expressed as 50.

Parents are often inclined to pay too much attention to the I.Q. of their children. However, if it is far below normal, the child must be considered to be a true idiot and cannot be educated in school subjects. Such children usually require care in an institution.

The next lowest group are imbeciles who can learn to perform simple household duties but cannot go far in school. Less seriously retarded children can often be taught to learn enough to support themselves in simple occupations, but are not likely to go beyond the elementary grades of school. At the other end of the scale are the mentally superior children with high I.Q.'s. It is not possible to drill or train a youngster with a low I.Q. into a definitely higher group.

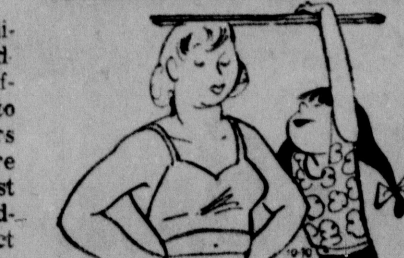

Many mentally retarded children can be helped to lead useful, productive and happy lives. In addition to the aid which can be obtained from physicians, institutions, school supervisors, psychologists, psychiatrists and others, there is an organization known as the National Association for Retarded Children (99 University Place, New York 3, N.Y.) which is doing fine work through its many units throughout the country.

Britain Carries Out Hydrogen Bomb Tests

Boy Scout Leaders Take on New Task As Auxiliary Policemen

(This is another in a series of news items being served to mat subscribers.)

By JAMES TRIPP
The Nevada Daily Mail

NEVADA, Mo. (AP)—Nine Nevada Boy Scout leaders were graduated recently with diplomas as qualified city policemen to set a precedent for something new in Scouting and giving the community better police protection.

The idea of Scout leaders becoming auxiliary policemen was advanced last April by Dr. Robert F. Triplett, Arrowhead District Boy Scout commissioner. A month later the group had its first training session.

City Manager Tom Herring said the nine auxiliary policemen will provide a real solution to one of the city's main problems — adequate police protection in time of emergencies or during special events. He cited the city's centennial observance when 100,000 people visited the city in a week and during a fire that destroyed the high school last year.

Herring said the unit can be activated in the matter of minutes to meet almost any emergency. The men are trained to handle anything from a parade around the square to the institution of emergency measures in time of an atomic attack.

They are all leaders in the community and do this work both as a backstop for the regular city police, but as well for the training and insight into police methods. The only cost to the city in the future will be the cleaning of uniforms for the Auxiliary Policemen. They receive no pay for their regular hours of training and service to the community.

The class which was graduated this month has received a total of 50 hours of training since last May. Ten hours of this training have been in the classroom under the guidance of the Nevada Police Chief Darrell Estes Jr., and his staff of officers. The other 40 hours were in what is called "duty hours," that is riding with patrolmen in police cars during the busy weekends.

The auxiliary force which has served a total of 602 hours since its beginning, lists these adult Scout leaders, Dr. Robert F. Triplett, T. L. Pursley, Gay D. Barton, Francis M. Webster, B. L. Nicodemus, G. A. Bronker, Loren "Red" Archer, Lee R. Spradley, and Francis J. Orlaski, district Boy Scout executive.

The unit under the direct supervision of the chief of police does not make arrests, but may do so only if the occasion warrants. They prefer not to make arrests, looking on themselves as a service unit to the community.

In addition to training in police methods, the force receives training in fire fighting methods under the direction of the Nevada Fire Department staff.

Nevada has been designated as an important center in the event of an atomic attack on Kansas City, Mo., and important area civilian defense officials would headquarter here. The local auxiliary would be instrumental in civilian defense liaison work.

A special force has also been set up for those who graduate from the auxiliary.

This special force now listing four members will receive additional training and will perform extra duties. They will carry weapons and will be given a tour of duty, alone, using one of the two patrol cars. They will be versed in the city laws, use of the police radio, firearms training, and self-preservation training classes, in addition to training obtained in the auxiliary ranks.

A normal chain of command is maintained in the auxiliary, orders coming from either the chief of police or fire chief, depending on the emergency, and continuing down through the ranks.

Lt. Thad H. Harden, 25, formerly of El Paso, Tex., reported his starboard engine failed shortly after taking off from Alameda Naval Air Station. Without time to maneuver under the towering span, Harden stuck tight and lifted the plane over it.

He clambered into a life raft after setting the twin-engine craft on the smooth bay waters and was picked up by a crash boat.

Many bridge motorists credited Harden with saving their lives by his heroic handling of the crippled plane.

Six Year Old Shoots Babysitter In Arm

CINCINNATI (AP)—It was a brisk afternoon for 6-year-old Michael Schaefer Jr., who, police said, shot his baby-sitter, Mrs. Naomi Babe, 45, in the right arm.

Investigators said Mrs. Babe found Michael holding a .22-caliber rifle, and said he told her: "This gun is loaded; if you come in I'll shoot you." Thinking it was a toy, she walked in unafraid. The rifle discharged, striking her in the forearm.

Mrs. Babe was released after hospital treatment, but police took over her baby-sitting chores temporarily.

Maglie Gets One Share

Yankees and Braves Count Take From Richest Series

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees counted their ends of the richest World Series ever today.

Yankee pitcher Sal Maglie, who tried to work both sides of the street, was satisfied with one cut of the money pie instead of the two he almost landed.

The 30 Braves voted a full series share were wealthier by $8,924.36 for winning the New York Yankees 4-3 in the series. It was the third highest stake in 54 years of series play.

Thirty-three Yankees got $5,606.06 portions, fourth highest for losers.

Commissioner Ford Frick released the figures. He also squashed Maglie's opportunity to collect from both sides.

The Yankees voted the Niagara Falls money pitcher a $2,803.03 share for the month he spent with them after he was traded from the National League Brooklyn Dodgers Sept. 1.

The Dodgers consigned a $1,507.19 third-place pot to The Barber, who would have earned $4,310.22 in a series in which he was ineligible to play.

But Frick stepped in. An aide said he "believes that no man should be allowed a cut from both leagues. So he decided that Maglie would have to take the allotment from the team with which he finished the season, in this case the Yankees."

The Braves voted $6,693.27 three-quarter shares to Bob Hazle and Nippy Jones, who joined the team late in the season.

They allotted three one-third shares and $7,500 to be split among bat boys, groundkeepers and part-season players.

The Yankees voted a full share to Bill Dickey, coach who was out all season because of illness. They also passed out two half shares, two quarter shares and $3,250 to bat boys and groundkeepers.

The 394,712 spectators at seven games contributed $2,806,536.24. Attendance and gate receipts were records. The players share the proceeds of the first four games.

The St. Louis Cards second-place team in the National League earned full shares of $1,636.22. Chicago White Sox, American League runners-up earned $1,521.39 per full share.

The Boston Red Sox shares amounted to $1,004.33. The fourth-place Cincinnati Redlegs and Detroit Tigers received $541.25 and $466.67, respectively.

Biggest share of all went to a nonpro. Uncle Sam hauled away a tax bite of $247,738.96. He'll get another installment when Yankees and Braves players ante up next April 15.

Spider Webb Meets Jackie LaBua Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Spider Webb, 6th ranked middleweight contender, and Jackie LaBua, self-styled playboy-fighter, meet tonight in a scheduled 10-round bout.

Webb, substituting for Ralph (Tiger) Jones, who pulled a leg ligament in training, has lost only two of 25 professional fights.

The fight, nationally televised (ABC, 8 p. m. CST), is one which could greatly benefit the unranked LaBua or move Webb along on his road to a title shot.

Giants Face Farm Club, Park Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants' front office moved from New York into its new office today and was faced with farm club and ball park problems.

President Horace Stoneham, who called reporters to an afternoon conference, was expected to announce that he had retained Bill Rigney as field manager of the National League club.

A few of the other developments:

1. Fred David, president of Sacramento's Pacific Coast League Solons, said he would vote against approving the sale by the Boston Red Sox of the San Francisco Seals to the Giants. He said he doubts other PCL directors would go along with the sale. "Nothing has been offered... in the matter of compensatory damages," David said.

2. The Giants swapped their Minneapolis American Assn. franchise plus cash for the Seals franchise. Stoneham said he hopes to place the minor league club in a new PCL city if one can be found. Still to be settled is what the Giants will have to pay the PCL for invading its San Francisco territory.

3. Contractor Charles Harney started proceedings to lease submerged land needed for automobile parking area at the site where the new Giant stadium is to be built. Edmund G. Brown, California attorney general, had ruled it would be illegal for the state to sell or exchange its tidelands unless it got more than the price of submerged land.

4. Stoneham hired Jerry Donovan, veteran baseball man and president of the Seals. His duties will be determined later.

The Giant president also said he hopes to enlarge the present Seals stadium—capacity 18,075—to at least 23,000 by adding left field bleachers. The Giants may play the entire 1958 season there although they hope the new stadium will be ready before it ends.

No players were involved in the trade of franchises. The clubs simply traded territories.

The Giants are liable for damages to the coast league for taking one of its prize cities, Stoneham added. He added that no offer would be made until after the coast league directors meet next month.

McIntyre Wins As Eakins Is Disqualified

Temper flared in the feature event on the wrestling card of Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, Tuesday night, resulting in the two contestants showing their anger. Bill "Red" McIntyre of Ottumwa, however, won the event when his opponent, Ike Eakins of Harlan, Ky., was disqualified in the final fall period.

Eakins, desiring to "become the power in the local area, did everything in and out of the book to beat "Red." As a result McIntyre turned tables and put on the heat which kept Referee Lou Spandle, Kansas City, Kan., jumping every minute.

Eakins, after a rough eight minutes and 30 seconds, pinned "Red" after using the atomic drop and body press. Then in the second period the two big men "had-at-it" resulting in McIntyre using what he termed a body check and press to win in three minutes and 28 seconds.

The third period was one of anger on the part of both men. So heated did it become, that when McIntyre succeeded in throwing the giant opponent out over the ropes onto the concrete floor, Eakins tried to come back and on the outside of the ring grabbed "Red" and pulled his neck across the top rope and continued to choke him until he fell limp on the mat. Spandle, trying to break it up, awarded the event to McIntyre to the pleasure of the fans. It took 10 minutes and five seconds for the fall.

In the semi-feature Thor Hagen, Minneapolis, Minn., bested Tommy O'Toole, Los Angeles, Calif. Using the knee drop and body press in the first period O'Toole won the first fall in 10 minutes and 41 seconds.

The second fall went to Hagen who used the Indian leg lock to win in 10 minutes and 12 seconds. He took the third fall with a body check and press in two minutes and 31 seconds.

The opening event was another Farmer Powell winning event, using his famous "stomp puller" to put Scotty Williams of Hollywood, Calif., out of the running in 11 minutes and 13 seconds.

Gust Karras, promoter, announced an all-star card would be given on Tuesday night, Oct. 29. Karras would not mention the names of those he is trying to sign for the feature event, but promised it would be another filled with plenty of action and thrills.

Expect End To Big 8 Tie On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oklahoma Sooners are expected to end a two-way tie for the Big Eight Conference lead this weekend with a resounding victory over Kansas at Norman.

The Sooners shared the lead with Nebraska, each having one victory and no defeats.

Iowa State and Missouri will both have an opportunity to improve on their standings but it will be at the expense of one or the other in a game at Ames.

The Cyclones are tied for second place with Kansas on a 1-1 record while Missouri will be getting its first conference action of the season.

Kansas State and Colorado also will be looking for a better position in the standings and also at the expense of each other. Both teams carry 0-1 records into their game at Manhattan.

Iowa State already has improved on its 1956 conference record and equalled its overall record in the victory column.

An upset over slightly favored Missouri would guarantee the Cyclones their best season since 1951, when they won two and lost four.

On paper at least, Missouri and Iowa State appear to be evenly matched. Both teams have 2-1 overall records.

The Cyclones have accumulated a total offense of 864 yards while yielding 1,035. The Tigers have gained only 686 yards while their opponents have totaled 1,275.

Minnesota, Illinois May Be Upset

Michigan State, Oklahoma, Texas A&M Favored As Winners in Weekend Clashes

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking the weekly football winners always has been a four-pack job, but now the doctor says only six cigarettes a day... so nervously...

Michigan State over Purdue: The Spartans were at their 1957 best against Michigan. Purdue has been beaten three times but isn't a poor team.

Oklahoma over Kansas: If they all were this easy, you could give up smoking completely.

Texas A&M over Texas Christian: John Crow is one of the country's better backs... and he plays for Texas A&M.

Minnesota over Illinois: There's just a faint hint of an upset here, especially if the Illini stop fumbling. Minnesota power to prevail over Illinois speed and passes.

Duke over Wake Forest: Duke stays unbeaten for another week.

Oregon State over UCLA: Oregon State has beaten UCLA only once since 1948 and that was last year. The trend has been reversed and now the defending Coast champions, with Jo Francis doing the heavy, triumph for a second straight year.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: It is close ones such as this that make just a smidgin' of nicotine necessary.

Arkansas over Texas: Just one more drag, please. That Walt Fendren of Texas can frighten anyone.

North Carolina over Maryland: Queen Elizabeth will watch this game. She will wonder what it's all about. So will Maryland.

Navy over Georgia: The first of the season's bowl games. This one is the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk and Georgia will discover that Navy has a real pearl in Ned Oldham.

Army over Pittsburgh: Yes, doctor, this puff was needed. As close as they come. The mythical Eastern title could be decided with the home field giving the Cadets the edge.

Skipping over the others in a hurry.

West Virginia over George Washington.

SATURDAY

EAST: Boston College over Villanova, Penn over Brown, Yale over Cornell, Harvard over Columbia, Holy Cross over Dartmouth, Penn State over Vanderbilt, Princeton over Colgate, Rutgers over Lehigh.

WEST: Iowa over Wisconsin, Cincinnati over Marquette, Missouri over Iowa State, Colorado over Kansas State, Michigan over Northwestern, Syracuse over Nebraska, Ohio State over Indiana, Tulsa over North Texas State, Drake over Colorado State U.

SOUTH: Mississippi over Tulane, Miami over N. C. State, Tennessee over Alabama, The Citadel over Richmond, Davidson over West Virginia Tech, Florida

State over Abilene Christian, Florida over Mississippi State, Virginia Tech over Virginia, Furman over Wofford, Kentucky over LSU.

SOUTHWEST: Hardin Simmons over Wichita, Houston over Oklahoma State, Rice over Southern Methodist, Baylor over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Arizona over New Mexico, Southern California over California, Utah over Denver, College of Pacific over Idaho, Utah State over Montana, Washington State over Oregon, Washington over Stanford, Wyoming over Brigham Young.

Williams Knocks Out Holman in 7th Round In Heavyweight Bout

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cleveland Williams stretched Johnny Holman up on his toes with a whistling left uppercut, then crossed a booming right for a seventh round knockout last night.

The crushing combination came at 2:12 of the seventh in the scheduled 10-rounders.

Holman hung in the air a second after the left, then fell heavily under the right. The Chicago heavyweight was on the floor a full minute before being revived.

Efforts to Tell Child Of Adoption to No Avail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—I know a child who's a wilderness to me, and fun to explore day by day.

Her name is Tracy—"Margaret Tracy Ann Kathleen," as she likes to brag when she is sure her father is listening. She is 4 years old and grabbing for eternity.

Out of all the children in the whole wide world my wife, Frances, and I picked her out at the squirming age of one month to share the common adventure of our life, which we enjoy, and Tracy, who is rugged, seems to also.

She is as sure of herself as a tractor on a half-acre farm, and does a fair job of plowing the household rules. But she is a mystery unto herself, and her next step to me is always a pleasant puzzle.

I don't know whether you have ever adopted a child. If you have, you must be familiar with one of the first instructions:

"Do not hide from the child the fact it is adopted. Tell it from the start it is a chosen child, and make it feel very, very selected."

Well, never a man to go against social science, I started trying to indoctrinate my daughter.

ter early. When she was 6 months old, I swung her in my arms and crooned:

"Baby, you're the best. We saw the crop in a good year, and you're the top of the harvest. You were never a grape. You were born champagne."

Month after month, year after year, endeavoring as best we could to save her from any early searing emotional scars and trying to abide by the book, we have told her she is the absolutely the greatest, which she is; the positively absolute and that's for sure; and the real sine qua non, which is a foreign way of saying it.

She takes this praise as Cinderella might, lifting the right foot to the perfect shoe. As a matter of fact she lives that fairy tale, and sometimes when I demand that she bring me my slippers, she'll remark:

"I'm just like Cinderella. I have to do everything around here."

She is now fair, tall for her age and has long brown tresses, and I hold her up face-to-face to the mirror and ask, "See, don't we look alike?"

"Yes," she replies, glancing at my scalp—I didn't actually survive the Custer massacre, but I look like I did—and adds:

"But I've got more hair!"

For some reason strangers—even close friends of the family—think this is funny. I laugh as hard as a man in my position can.

Try to tell Tracy that, happy as we are, when she grows up she

Money Squeeze Halts Building Skyscraper

NEW YORK (U)—A planned 46-story Manhattan skyscraper is a victim of the tight money market. Excavation has been halted for the building at Park Avenue and 53rd Street until its sponsor, Vincent Astor, can raise more money to carry out the project.

A spokesman said yesterday that Astor is willing to pay 5 1/2 per cent interest for more funds but no lender has offered to supply the money needed.

Astor and his family have realty holdings estimated at more than 40 million dollars. This money is tied up and cannot be used to finance the new building.

Town Ties Vote On $15,000 Bond Issue

MADRID, Okla. (U)—Residents here voted on a $15,000 bond issue to finance a new fire engine which the City Council has already purchased. The vote was tied at 233 for and 233 against. A simple majority was needed for the issue to pass.

A proposed $85,000 bond issue to buy equipment for the city hall was defeated by one vote, 294-293. City commissioners are considering a recount.

will go on to other duties and pleasures and she insists:

"No, when you and Mommy are old, I will take care of you. I will see that you get plenty of good food—and you must eat it every bit."

I try as subtly and as hard as I can to pave the way to let this child know she is adopted, but after all I cannot go beyond the truth, which is:

"Tracy, out of all the millions and millions of babies in the whole wide world, Daddy and Mommy picked you."

She is a stubborn, willful, self-confident child.

"I picked you," she replies. Sometime, though, she will ask a question. But not now. Not now.

Republican Club Holds Meeting

The October meeting of the Pet-its County Republican Club was held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Ambassador Room of the Hotel Bothwell, and a standing ovation was given President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the occasion of his 67th birthday.

Election of officers was held with H. Leroy Luchs, 120 East Seventh, elected president. Other new officers are: vice-president, Mrs. Evelyn Cox, 504 West Cooper; secretary, John Handley, 1806 South Sneed; treasurer, Harold E. Vogel, 1507 South Osage and members of the board, Mrs. Lillian Hamlin, 1010 Crescent Drive; Mrs. Lou Derendinger, 2619 Woodlawn Drive, north; Oscar O. Lawson, 631 North Osage, and Ed Kehde, 2201 West Third.

The objectives of the organization were discussed and plans for future programs brought out. The club aim is to promote interest in and study of government, local, state and federal.

A brief discussion of the proposition, "Our Government is a Republic. Refer to It As Such!" was carried on. In the discussion it was emphasized that the precinct is the foundation upon which our republic is founded. If interest and action are carried on within the precinct, elections will not be decided by default. A strong two-party system of government is America's protection against a federalized state.

Copper Sulphate Is Used to Save Fish

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—Along the Florida west coast sacks of copper sulphate tied to bridges are being used as the latest device to strike down the fish-killing red tide.

Agents from the State Conservation Department are tying these sacks to bridges over passes from Clearwater to Naples. The idea is that waters flowing through these passes will be doctored by the chemical from the sacks.

Copper sulphate produced excellent results when the red tide first was discovered in waters off here Sept. 26. But marine biologists are not completely sold on it because of the expense, and its staying qualities might not be too great. No new outbreaks were reported yesterday. Water samples from a small infestation near Sanibel Island in the Fort Myers area showed a lower count of gymnodinium bevis, the minute marine bug which colors water red and kills fish by poisoning them.

IDOL — But as a singer or actor? Tommy Sands, due to appear next spring in the 20th Century-Fox film, "The Singin' Idol," hopes to prove himself in both categories.

Ex-D'washer Is Co-Star In 'Houseboat'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—If Harry Guardino wears a satisfied look over his co-star billing with Cary Grant and Sophia Loren, it's understandable.

The guy made it the hard way—up from washing dishes in Hollywood hash houses and filling in for acting jobs by shipping out as a seaman. He even claims he went without eating for four days when jobs were scarce.

Harry is a good-looking Brooklyn boy of 31 who is starting with the high-powered company in "Houseboat." But he's pretty high-powered himself, as those who saw him in the play "Hatful of Rain" can testify.

He started acting when he was a kid in Brooklyn. He joined a Police Athletic League dramatic group and continued his interest in high school. Then came the war. He joined the Navy and when he returned, he found the dramatic school he wanted to enter was crowded. So he took a test as a merchant seaman, passed with flying colors and shipped out.

During one of his stretches on the beach, he enrolled in New York's Dramatic Workshop. He later came to Hollywood, got a job washing dishes in a Vine Street coffee joint.

"I got fired," he said. "The boss caught me eating steak when I was supposed to be eating hamburger."

He got one picture job—in a Tony Curtis movie. A week later, he was working in a Beverly Hills gas station.

At one point, Harry decided to toss in the towel. He began teaching acting technique.

Then his onetime fellow student, Michael Gazzio, wired that his

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—Robert Tharrington told police he had purchased a new electric refrigerator they found in his house. But officers arrested him anyway, on a charge of possession of stolen goods.

The charge was certified to Hastings Court by Police Court Judge Harold C. Maurice—after police testified Tharrington's house is not wired for electricity.

Answer Roll With Ideas for Costumes

The Warsaw Mother's Club met at the home of Mrs. Jean Ponder Tuesday evening, Oct. 8.
During the business meeting the newly organized Girl Scout program of Warsaw was reviewed for the club by the scout leaders. Tentative committees were appointed to plan the Christmas party.

Ideas for Halloween costumes for the children to enter in the Spook parade at the high school carnival.

An interesting program was presented by Mrs. Rosemary Barb. The article presented had the provocative title of "Raising Children Who'll Reach For The Moon." A group discussion was held concerning problems that might face our young people in the future. Refreshments were served to 12 members.

Roll call was answered with For Ambulance Service Ph. 8

Similarity Seen in Cause Of Backaches

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—The pot-bellied man and the pregnant woman are in the same boat; they are prone to painful backache or subject to aggravation of an existing one, a Canadian surgeon says.

The reason: in such people "there is increased strain in the center of gravity—a lot of increased strain on the spine," Dr. Frank Patterson, of Vancouver General Hospital told newsmen at the 43rd annual Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

He also said that this type of backache—involving a strain on the ligaments and muscles of the back—is frequently due to emotional conditions, with the tension of the person resulting in a tightening up of the tissues in the back.

Approximately 10 to 15 per cent of all backaches are of neurotic origin, he said.

But he declared that, conversely, "a lot of people get neurotic because they have a pain in the back . . . and relief of the discomfort may change their personality reaction to it."

Patterson indicated that in instances where the backache is not due to some underlying physical disease or condition or emotional stress, certain "exercises with a purpose" are helpful—including lying on one's back and raising the legs, or, from the same position, placing the hands behind the head and raising the head and shoulders.

These exercises are designed to strengthen the abdominal muscles and thereby offset the back strain, he said.

Other exercise, such as walking or golf, is good treatment if in moderation, but strenuous exercise of any kind is taboo, because it will nearly always aggravate the backache, he said.

He declared backaches are common in the elderly—not because of the aging process in itself but because "increasing weight, poor posture and inactivity go along with age."

President Eisenhower told the clinical congress in a message last night that Americans place too much emphasis on government to supply their essential needs.

The President said: "The wa-

Nineteen Persons Injured by Tornado

OPELOUSAS, La. (U)—A tornado smashed homes and trees last night as it swirled through Opelousas. Nineteen persons were injured.

State Police Trooper Davy Knight said five or six homes were leveled.

Fifteen injured Negroes were taken to the St. Landry Clinic and a white man and his three children to Opelousas General Hospital. None were hurt seriously.

Witnesses said they heard a noise and then felt their homes lifted from the foundations.

The tornado struck about 10 p.m. and was accompanied by heavy rains. It cut a northward path from the Cypress Grave section of St. Landry Parish toward State Highway 31 about four miles east of Opelousas.

ters of liberty flow from one source: voluntary initiative and effort."

"In a free democracy like ours, less and less—not more and more—should devolve on government," he added.

Uses Patch From Stomach As New Bladder

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—Production of an "artificial bladder" from a section of the stomach was reported today by a Chicago surgeon.

Dr. Edwin S. Sinaiko of Loyola University said the substitute bladder was fashioned to aid a woman whose natural bladder was affected by an inoperable cancer. The tumor, he told the 43rd urine without the aid of an inserted tube.

He said the operation—in which a pouch of the stomach was cut away and resewn into place as a functioning urinary bladder—might be useful in the case of paraplegic patients where there is a loss of the normal muscular control of urine passage. Also, "it may be useful whenever the true bladder must be sacrificed," he said.

The surgeon said the only patient who so far has undergone this operation—a 38-year-old housewife and the mother of six—experienced a good result. Function of the main part of the stomach was not impaired as a result of these surgeries. The patient experienced no gastro-intestinal symptoms. She gained eight pounds in six months. Her digestion was faultless, and restoration of kidney functions took place 24 days after surgery.
